DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The preliminary amendment filed on August 4, 2006 has been entered.

Priority

2. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

3. The drawings filed on August 4, 2006 are objected to for the following reasons: Figures 10 and 11 should apparently be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicants will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Art Unit: 1797

Specification

4. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: (A) The specification apparently fails to indicate that this case is the national stage of International Application No. PCT/JP2005/001783, filed on February 7, 2005. (B) The word “this” on the seventh line of paragraph [0004] on page 2 should apparently be changed to --there--. (C) The word “sing” on the sixth line of paragraph [0009] on page 3 should apparently be changed to --single--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

5. Claim 5 is objected to because the numeral “4” at the beginning of the last line of claim 5 should apparently be deleted. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicants are advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the admitted prior art described on pages 1-3 of the specification in view of U.S. Patent No. 5,601,633 to Ponizovsky et al. The admitted prior art described on pages 1-3 of the specification discloses an air purification apparatus with a plurality of discharge electrodes and a counter electrode causing streamer discharge by applying a cyclically varying voltage substantially as claimed. However, it would appear that the admitted prior art may not explicitly mention that the frequency of the applied voltage is greater than or equal to the generated frequency of the streamer discharge. In any case, Ponizovsky et al (note col. 1, lines 19-32; col. 2, lines 16-27; col. 3, line 34 to col. 4, line 49; col. 5, line 60 to col. 7, line 22; col. 9, lines 12-30) teach the well-known use of carefully-regulated frequency levels in an air purification device for the purpose of ensuring proper streamer discharge pulses. Consequently, it would have been readily obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to employ an applied voltage frequency greater than or equal to the generated streamer discharge frequency in the admitted prior art air purification apparatus in order to produce efficient streamer discharge pulses by carefully regulating the frequency levels as taught by Ponizovsky et al.

Art Unit: 1797

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicants' disclosure. These references have been cited as art of interest to show other air purification systems.
